WARNS AGAINST SHIPPING STOCK

Richard T. Wilson, Jr., Would Keep Blooded Mares Here.

INDORSES SCOTT'S PLEA

Declares European Nations Will Be in the Market for Breeding Stock When Present Conflict Ends.

New York, July 18.—Richard T. Wilson, Jr., president of the Saratoga Race Association, and himself a breeder of thoroughbred horses, sounded a note of warning a few days ago about permitting further shipments of desirable broodmare stock from this country, saying in part:

"I am much impressed by the plea uttered recently by Maj. Gen. Scott of the United States that Russia during her invasion of east Prussia decimated the splendid stud established by the late Count Lehndorff, taking in all 20,000 broodmares of the highest class means that Germany, as well as France, Austria-Hungary and other nations, will be in the market for breeding stock the moment peace is declared. It is only natural that this country should be a Mecca for those who want the best. We have a shortage of thoroughbred mares because of the crippling of racing for the past seven years, but now that better days are in prospect we shall speedily remedy that. There is a lack also of that type of mare with or without a dash of warm blood that would throw a trooper's mount if mated with a thoroughbred sire. The question is one which should engage the attention of the National Security League, whose general call is for preparedness and if they will investigate by situation they will discover that we are in a bad way for cavalry remounts. The fact that the appropriation for remounting in horse is only $1,000,000, two years ago to half that amount for the past twelve months," continued Mr. Wilson, "is not calculated to place this country in the position it should occupy among the nations of the world. Assuredly those who are responsible for this policy are not familiar with conditions as they exist today, and the subject calls for a thorough airing when Congress convenes."

Meeting at Saratoga. In commenting upon the approaching meeting at Saratoga, which means much to the farmer and horse breeder of central New York, Mr. Wilson said: "The plan of standing thoroughbred horses throughout New York under the control of the Jockey Club's Bureau of Breeding and the offering of special prizes for the get of the sires at the various fairs is of great economic advantage to the State. While the Saratoga meeting is on, farmers take the keenest sort of interest in the racing, and they are quick to pick out the type of sire that is best suited to cross with their mares. It is somewhat difficult to get the right type of sire, but now they realize that there is ready market for all the half-breeds they can produce."

"We have in view a plan whereby the farmer will be instructed in the manner by which he can most quickly turn his horse into money. The proper care and feeding of the mare and foal is, of course, essential, but the breaking and developing of the colt after it has reached three years of age is quite as important. It is amazing the change that a few weeks' handling, even by an amateur, will make, and the fact that half-breds command a ready sale in the autumn of year 3-year-olds is a factor in their favor, the farmer realizing that he does not have to winter the animal, as would be the case with a heavy type of horse, which cannot be put to work at a less mature age."

"It is to be hoped," said Mr. Wilson, in conclusion, "that Congress will heed the appeals of men like Gen. Scott, who knows the country's needs, and that the maximum which the government now pays for a 3-year-old cavalry remount will be increased from $175 to a figure where the farmer and horse breeder will be enabled to place his horse on the market at a profit. We will get more and better horses under this plan, and the breeding industry will be stimulated astonishingly. Other countries are lavish with their money when it comes to the promotion of horse breeding, and some of them give out as much as five times as much as our entire appropriation for a single year, and think the money well spent. We have millions for other things, but we do not outmeasure our horse interests. This is a day when we can't afford to let anybody beat us at anything, and the time is ripe for action in connection with the safeguarding of our horse interests."

Braves Sign Pitcher Schroeder. Boston, July 18.—The Boston National League club has acquired the services of Pitcher R. Schroeder, a free agent. He pitched several no-hit games for Sacramento, in the Pacific Coast League, and has been much sought after by big league clubs, among them being Detroit and the White Sox. He is a right-hander and made an first one inning, winning 185 pounds. He left Sacramento yesterday and will report to Manager Stallings in a few days.

QUALIFICATION ROUND OF SUBURBAN TOURNEY

Sixteen Men Named Who Will Compete for Handsome Sidney Beiber Trophy.

The qualification round of the July golf tournament at the Washington Suburban Club was completed yesterday afternoon and play will commence this week in the first round, which must be completed by next Sunday.

A handsome loving cup, donated by Sidney Beiber, will be awarded to the winner.

The first sixteen men, according to their scores, were Al Stigmund, Robert Myers, Morton J. Lucha, D. Cohen, S. Minster, J. Peyer, Sidney Beiber, Harry King, Alex. Wolf, F. Brylawski, Lou Hirsch, Joe King, Dr. Harry M. Kauffman, Henry L. Kauffman, Albert Stelm, and Harry M. Kauffman.

According to their scores, the first highest, and the third highest to meet the fourth highest, and so on.

NOTES OF THE GAME.

When Walter Johnson was announced as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning of the first game, the fans set up a roar, remembering Walter's last appearance here, when Walter lifted one over the left field fence, the longest hit ever recorded in the Sixth City. Walter came through today with a single over third base, tying the count.

Unless all indications are wrong, Bill Mitchell has started his last game for Cleveland for a long time to come. Bill has joined the aviation crew and never gets by these days without one or two bad injuries. Instead of being the most reliable man on the staff, the Sardis southpaw has degenerated into a regular loser.

Eddie Foster's work around second base stamps him as a regular second baseman, and if Griff can find some one to plug the third base hole, Eddie will be a fixture around the midway station.

Chick Gandil was laid out cold for ten minutes, when he twisted his right foot, taking a throw from Ayers. Chick's bad ankle would not stand the strain and the Nationals' first sacker took the count. A short rest enabled him to get back into harness again, with the assistance of Mike Martin.

John Henry had a tough day. He struck out no less than four times during the first game, and could not start the second game. He was cracked on the change shoulder twice, the knee once, but thankfully not the bad one, and the fourth slam bounced off his right hand.

While Griff and the Nationals are about as popular here as a horse thief, Nick Altrock always gets a glad hand. When Chick was laid out, Nick was the center of the fans' eyes, chasing along the drive, clean to the fence, Nick and Larry, the Indians' pet bull dog, engaged in a regular wrestling match—it was a draw, they looked too much alike.

Griffmen Capture the Second Double Header of Season from Cleveland

Nationals Trim Indians in Opening Game in Thirteen Innings, 4 to 2.

GUY MORTON THE VICTIM

Walter Johnson, Pinch Hitting, Drives in Winning Tally for Local Club.

By CHARLES W. SWAN, Sporting Department, Cleveland Leader. Cleveland, July 18.—Talk about your batting battlers, why, Griff's gang of gladiators from the city of plug hits and frock coats simply took the Forest City by storm today, taking both ends of a Sunday double session, 4 to 2 and 4 to 2, and both games were regular affairs.

The first one lasted thirteen innings and Guy Morton, Lee's only real hurler, was the victim. He was assassinated by Walter Johnson in the ninth and last scheduled inning when Walter, in a pinch hitter's role, blasted a single which scored two runs and tied up the old ball game. Then Morton went along nicely until the thirteenth, when the break came and the Indians broke with Morton. But credit must be handed to little Clyde Milan, as it was his single which scored the winning run after the Indians had booted the ball around a little.

The second game was a pipkin to watch. For eight innings Willie Mitchell steamed along like a big leaguer, never showing the effects of his recent hamstrings which he has been the recipient of many.

Then, like a black cloud in a bright sky, the Nationals climbed on his shoats. Before Fohl could yank Willie, his southpaw's slants had been smashed for three runs, bringing the Nationals' total to four, just one more than the Indians had. Walter Johnson pitched the ninth frame, blanking the Redskins in the easiest kind of fashion.

The Indians turned up their war clubs in sixth inning of the opener and went to the offerings of Gallia for the first blood of the game. Southworth walked, Foster to Gandil, Chapman walked and tallied on Grane's double to right field. Kirk lined a single off Foster's glove, Grane counting, and Kirk reaching second on the throw to the plate.

Guy Morton, after pitching wonderfully for eight innings, was hit in the ninth frame by a double and a single, places in the ninth frame and Washington tied the score.

Foster walked and went to second on Milan's single to right. Shank's sacrifice bled the runners an extra station and Gandil made it two out by lifting to Chapman. Walter Johnson batted for Connolly and came through with a single to left, scoring Foster and Milan.

Washington won the game in the thirteenth. Moeller got a life on Wamby's fumble. Foster singled to left and both runners advanced a base on Grane's fumble.

Milan's single to center scored Moeller and Foster. Shank's single to center.

HIS PINCH HIT WINS OPENER.

WALTER JOHNSON. The Second Game.

Mitchell and Ayers started in the second. The Indians got one in the second on doubles by Kirk and Smith. The Nationals tied it in the fifth on McBride's single through Barbare, a pass to Ayers and Moeller's double against the screen.

Then the Indians forged ahead in their half on Smith's two-timer against the right field wall, a sacrifice and Wamby's single through Ayers.

Engel came to the hill in the seventh because Williams had batted for Ayers. He passed Smith, who chased to second on a passed ball and to third on a wild pitch.

With two strikes on Barbare, Engel uncorred another wild pitch, Barbare swung at it for a third strike and raced to first, Smith scoring. Wamby walked, Egan sacrificed, Mitchell fanned and Southworth was thrown out by McBride.

Things started happening in the ninth. Johnson batted for Neff and fanned, Almsmith beat out a roller to Wamby. McBride singled to right. Henry batted for Engel and forced McBride. Moeller's hot shot was knocked down by Mitchell, but he could not handle the ball. That delivered a single to center, tying the count, when Almsmith and Acoota, running for Henry scored. Wamby booted Milan's grounder and Moeller chased across with what proved the winning run.

Harstad replaced Mitchell and got Shank's on a groundout to Chapman for the third out. Score:

Griffmen 4, Indians 2.

Griffmen 4, Indians 2.

Medicos Win Game. Walter Reed Trims Braddock Club by 14 to 9 Count.

The Walter Reed Athletic Club defeated the Braddock club by a score of 14 to 9, Ray, pitching for the Braddock, was batted from the mound in the fifth inning and Martin, who relieved him, held the Medicos down to seven hits. The focus of the game was the pitching and hitting of Gill for Walter Reed.

Although being greatly handicapped by having three men in the hospital from injuries, the Medicos played a fast game, allowing only one man to reach first on error.

GOLFERS FINISH AT BANNOCKBURN

Sam Hazard and John Harris Complete Circuit in 72-Hole Medal Tournament.

FIELD OF FORTY START

By NAT T. WORLEY. Daniel L. Hazard and John T. Harris completed their last play yesterday afternoon in the 72-hole medal play golf tournament which has been running at the Bannockburn Golf Club for the past two weeks, the first named having a score of 34 and the last named a card for 34.

These two men are the only ones to complete this event thus far in a field of forty starters. Hazard's score is way below what he is capable of doing over the course, but that of Harris is considered to be excellent, he having averaged 31 for the 72 holes, with cards of 30, 32, and 32.

Lee Crandall, Jr., and Daniel L. Hazard are tied for low composite score, with a 34 each, while Ben Hunt, who has an 87 and a 91 for the first 36 holes, has apparently a good chance to rival the mark set by these men, as he made a 3 on number 1 and par on two or three others. The par for the nine holes is a difficult 36 and twice over this makes 72 for the course.

In the women's July golf tournament, Miss Alice Burbage defeated Miss Elsie Patterson yesterday 1 up in 9 holes in the first round. No other matches were played in this event.

The results of yesterday's play in the 72 hole contest were as follows:

Hole.

Daniel L. Hazard.	34
Lee Crandall.	34
Dr. J. R. De Farges.	34

JOE WOOD PITCHES RED SOX TO VICTORY

Holds Chicago White Sox Safe and Boston Rumps in with Game by 6 to 2 Count.

Chicago, July 18.—Boston's Red Sox beat the White-Hoed locals this afternoon, 6 to 2, thereby grabbing the lead in the pennant race. Joe Wood was the dominant factor in the victory. After allowing the Chicagoans to score two runs in the first round, he settled down and permitted but one hit thereafter. He was also directly responsible for three of Boston's runs, driving in one in the fourth, scoring another in the seventh, and "sequencing" in still another in the eighth. Faber was hit rather hard and received poor support. Clootie relieved him in the eighth inning, after a run had been scored. Score:

Boston, 6; Chicago, 2.

McInnes in Limelight. Detroit, July 18.—Largely through the efforts of "Stuffy" McInnes, who made three singles and two doubles in five trips to the plate, the Macs were saved from more ignominious defeat at the hands of Jennings' band this afternoon. A four-run lead in the opening round gave the Tigers the edge, which they held to the close despite a batting rally in the fifth by the visitors. The final tally was 11 to 7. Score:

Philadelphia, 11; Detroit, 7.
